

Washington,
May 11, 1896.

My dear Walsh,

I am greatly obliged to you for the photograph of Lily. It does not look much like her as I knew her, of course, but I am glad to have it. I have written to Mrs. Hirshberg, submitting suggestions for beautifying Lily's grave, and doubtless she will have it looking very pretty by the time that I find leisure to write that which will make people go out there to see it.

Probably I shall be in New York soon, as my work here will be done at the end of the session—unless I'm done first. My work has been very hard, and I'm a little broken down.

I hope you sometimes see Leigh. He does not write very often.

Sincerely yours,
Ambrose Bierce.
